Carpentry and Joinery
Diploma - R276

This is a level 1 programme that will prepare you for re-engagement into education. It will develop basic practical skills in preparation for progression onto a level 2 course, recognised within the industry.

COURSE DETAILS

You will participate in practical activities that develop specialist techniques specific to carpentry and joinery. This will be underpinned with some basic theory that will outline the application of safe practices within the construction industry whilst developing an understanding of the materials and equipment used in carpentry and joinery and across other trades. There may be opportunities to engage in work experience offering an insight into the construction industry and across other trades and their contribution when working on a construction project.
